DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Amendment filed December 27, 2004 is acknowledged.
2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kotkowicz (6,015,103) in view of Sasao et al. (4,687,142) and Takeda et al. (5,080,287).

Kotkowicz shows a fuel injector having a director plate 54 with injection ports 56 but does not disclose the roughness of the injection ports. Sasao discloses, in column 2, lines 54-57, a fuel injector having a fuel port with a surface roughness of about .1 microns. Takeda discloses, in column 1, line 60 through column 2, line 2, that having a surface roughness of .1 microns or less will eliminate catching of the residue at the fuel metering portion. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have made injection ports of Kotkowicz's director plate with a surface roughness of about .1 microns or less so as to: be able to have a surface that is smooth whereby a high precision of fuel injection control becomes possible as taught by Sasao in column 2, lines 64-69; eliminate catching of residue; and prevent deposition and accumulation of residue (Takeda, column 1, line 66 through column 2, line 1).

As to the limitation that the exit corners have a surface roughness of less than about .2 or .1 microns, since it is well known that the catching of residue happens at the corners and Takeda et al. discloses that the surface roughness will prevent such catching, it is deemed that one of ordinary skill in the art concerned with eliminating the catching of residue would finish the exit ports so that the exit corners have a surface roughness in the desired range so as to eliminate the catching of the residue.

It should be noted that the term "less than about" is a relative term and has been taken to include any number of values in and around the recited numeric value.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed December 27, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that the examiner's conclusion of obviousness is based upon improper hindsight reasoning, it must be recognized that any judgment on obviousness is in a sense necessarily a reconstruction based upon hindsight reasoning. But so long as it takes into account only knowledge which was within the level of ordinary skill at the time the claimed invention was made, and does not include knowledge gleaned only from the applicant's disclosure, such a reconstruction is proper. See In re McLaughlin, 443 F.2d 1392, 170 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1971).

In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, the reference provide the motivation. See the rejection paragraph above.

In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
